Here is a breakdown of our evening activities so you can pick which day you might want to attend the play. It's going to be tough though, we've got some great programs planned!

* Dinner will be served every evening from 5:30pm-6:30pm. ****

- Saturday's program will include a welcome address and a presentation by our Kevin Hanselka, our Principal Investigator on the objectives of the field school and an overview of the Archeology of the Canyon.
- Sunday and Monday evenings will offer educational presentations about regional archeology and history and the geoarcheology of the canyon.
- Tuesday we will host the "Wally" Margarita party with live entertainment
- Wednesday evening will include the Children's Program Sinking of the Titanic and our 4th annual Archeolympics competition featuring primitive skills such as atlatl throwing and rabbit stick.
- Thursday we will host a Public Archeology Fair for the local community. The fair will include artifact identification tables, fun educational activities and exhibits to provide archeological outreach and learning. At the end we will present a review of the field school for the public to highlight the work we have accomplished. We hope everyone will pitch in to make this fair a success!
- Friday we will present our Overview and Wrap-Up of the week and host our Field School Awards Program.

We'll also have a couple of afternoon programs and workshops during field school and, for those really hot days, the City of Canyon has recently constructed a large water park including a 6-lane lap pool, lazy river, and water slides! <http://www.canyontx.com/347/Canyon-Aqua-Park---The-CAP> There are other public swimming pools in town as well.

Nothing beats the camaraderie of field school! Please join us for this fun and unique field school opportunity by registering online or printing and mailing the registration form included in the upcoming newsletter or online.
